Overview

Charles “Charley” J. McCurdy is an associate with a focus on intellectual property who has helped represent a wide range of businesses, including retail, hospitality, transportation, and construction companies. As a member of the Litigation Practice Group, he assists clients in all aspects of litigation, including pre-litigation investigation and resolution, discovery, motions practice, mediation, and trial preparation. He also has experience analyzing potential disability discrimination, sexual harassment, defamation, breach of duty, professional malpractice, and other tort claims.

During law school, Charley was a staff editor for the UC Hastings Constitutional Law Quarterly and a member of OUTLAW, an LGBTQIA affinity group.

Before law school, Charley taught middle school in Oakland and worked with the copyright policy team at a local technology company.

Charley is proficient in Spanish.
