

BERKELEY, EMERYVILLE, SF, AND SAN LEANDRO EMPLOYERS: DON'T FORGET MID-YEAR MINIMUM WAGE INCREASES

In the peak of summer vacation season, don't let this one slip by you. Starting July 1, 2019, four Bay Area cities will see their minimum wage requirements increase.

Of the four, Emeryville's is the highest, at $16.30/hr, and the same rate will apply to all businesses, big and small. San Leandro's minimum hourly pay jumps to $14.00 on July 1, as Berkeley and San Francisco's new minimum rate of $15.59/hr takes effect. Note that in prior years, Berkeley's minimum wage increases occurred in October, but starting 2019 and thereafter, the increases will take place on July 1.

	July 1, 2019
Emeryville	$16.30/hr
San Leandro	$14/hr
Berkeley	$15.59/hr
San Francisco	$15.59/hr

Disclaimer: This article is intended to provide Donahue Fitzgerald clients and contacts with general information. The content of this publication is for informational purposes only and is not legal advice. The law frequently changes and legal matters are fact specific. Readers should obtain legal counsel to provide advice on a particular matter and should not act upon the information contained in the publication without seeking professional counsel. Neither the presentation of the information in this publication nor the receipt of the information creates an attorney-client relationship. Donahue Fitzgerald assumes no liability for the use or interpretation of information contained here in.

Copyright 2019 ©, Donahue Fitzgerald LLC. All rights reserved.

